

Jamco Soft Divider

This elegant cabin class divider from Jamco America offers a quiet distinction between cabin zones while providing an open cabin feel.

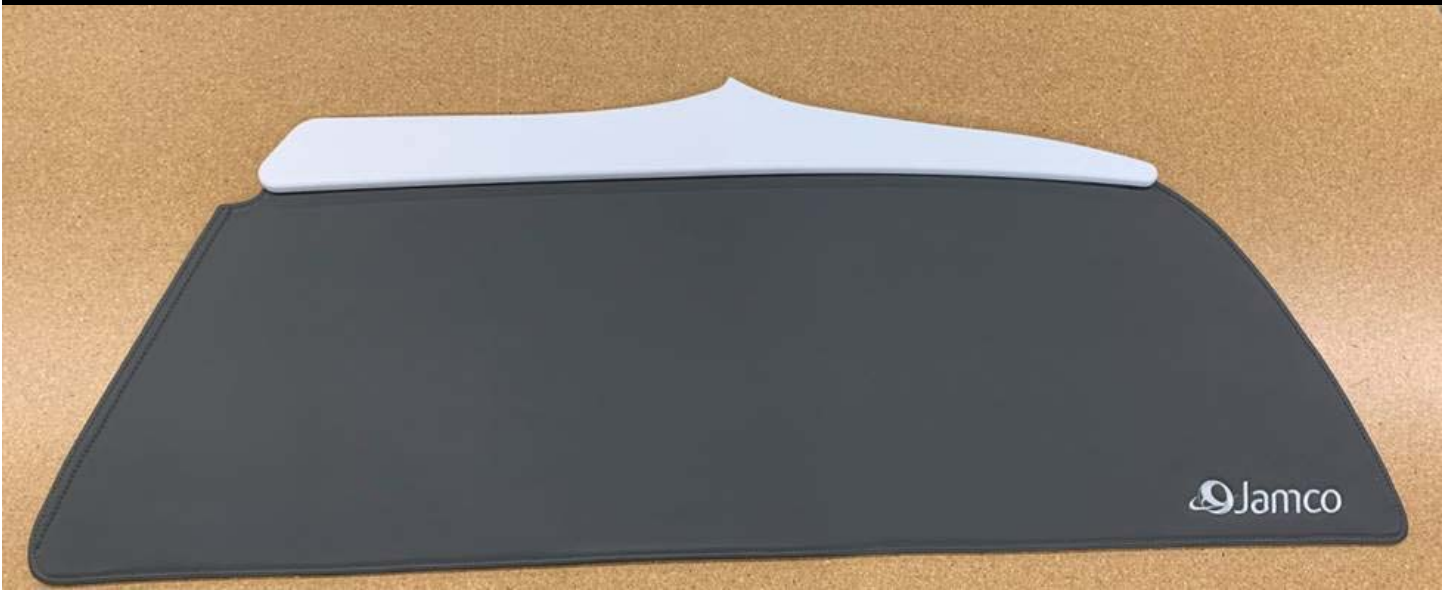

Flexible and soft to the touch, it blends perfectly with the cabin architecture's soft contours.

While providing modest separation, it also allows for airlines to enhance their branding and cabin zone customization.

For more information, please visit Jamco-America.com

Jamco Soft Divider

- ⇒ The Jamco Soft Divider™ provides a lightweight flexible solution that offers zone separation with minimum passenger and cabin intrusion.
- ⇒ Our narrow body aircraft design will not restrict a reclining seat, while offering minimal encroachment into the space of other passengers.
- ⇒ Jamco Soft Divider can be formed to follow the contour of the seat back in the reclined position.
- ⇒ The leather like wrapped divider features a simple elegance that also offers branding opportunities, including the use of color and embossed logos.
- ⇒ Our divider can be installed onto the OEM BSI class-divider header in a just a few hours with minimum effort by your maintenance team.

Jamco America, a subsidiary of Jamco Corporation in Japan, was established in 1982 as a commercial aircraft interior products and services provider. Located in Everett, WA, Jamco is considered one of the most experienced interior products suppliers and turnkey aircraft interiors integrators in the industry. Jamco has developed premium class seating for commercial aircraft, providing forward facing business class seating such as the Journey™ seats in 2015 and delivering the new Venture™ reverse herring-bone business class seat in 2019.